COUNTY PIONEER GONE TO REST

JOHN H. SEARS PASSES AWAY AT HIS LA HONDA HOME

With solemn ceremony the last sad rights were performed over the remains of John Howell Sears at the Congregational church Thursday afternoon. Many from this community and La Honda assembled at the edifice to pay their last respects to the aged Pioneer who had been a conspicious figure in the county since its organization.

A large number of friends followed the remains to Union Cemetery where the interment took place.

He was one of the earliest pioneers of this State. Born in Sullivan count, New Yrok, in February, 1823, he reached the mature age of 84 years. In later years his health has been failing him and when, a short time ago, he was stricken with pneumonia, his ill health could not endure it and he passed away.

He crossed the isthmus in 1853, and in August of the same year landed in San Francisco, coming with the steamer Powhattan. He made a small fortune in mining but in two years he gave up this pursuit, and in January of 1853 came to this county where he engaged in the wagon making business at Searsville. He built the first house there and the town was named after him. His partner was the late Daniel Ford.

In the winter of 1861 he moved across the mountains to La Honda, and settled in a pretty little viley in the heart of the redwoods, where he resided ever since. Up to the past few yaers, he kept a hotel and a general merchandise store.

His wife died some years ago and those left to mourn him are a son, William and two daughters, Ida J. and Annie L Sears and a grand son Leonard M. Sears.

The Spleen.

The spleen? Up to 1900 no physician dared to stand up in a clinic and tell what it was made for. For ages it was supposed to be the organ of irascibility. "Oh, his spleen is up!" meant that the old man was hot in the collar. Curious thing, that spleen. There is a herb called "spleenwort," which was supposed to remove such splenetic disorders as ill humor, melancholy and irritability. I saw a spleen the other day for the first time and was astounded. It was a soft, highly vascular, plum colored thing with a smooth surface. It was nearly six inches in length and weighed seven ounces. Now here is the funny feature of the spleen: After a hearty meal it is very much smaller than at other times, which may help to explain why a man is good natured after dinner. In diseased conditions the spleen may reach a weight of eighteen or twenty pounds.—New York Press.

Working the Minister.

"Don't imagine ministers have an easy time," remarked the Brooklyn preacher. "If I gave to every one applying for alms, I would be bankrupt. Then there are agents who always want a minister to purchase their wares so that they may use his name when going to other houses in the neighborhood. Last week a dapper fellow called with an oil painting. He was a good talker, and, although I did not buy the picture, he did persuade me to give him one of my photographs. The next day several of my church people told me that he had visited them, showed them the photograph and succeeded in making sales. A minister's life may seem like a path of roses when viewed from the pew on a Sunday, but there are certainly thorns in it during the week."—New York

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for the People Who Work in Redwood City.

Most Redwood people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk, riding on jolting wagons or cars, doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs.

James E. Brown, contracting painter of No. 17 Capp street, San Francisco, says: "A man at my occupation required a good sound back. If that part of his anatomy is weak, lame or aches every move of the brush brings torture. Besides, the ingredients used in my calling act directly on the kidneys and aggravate those organs. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills brought me such relief that I bought several more and continued the treatment until the trouble disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's, and take no other.
